Little opposition to Pontoon police tax

By PATHAY LUTZ
of the Press-Record

With only one resident voicing opposition to the proposed .075 property tax to pay for police protection in Pontoon Beach, village officials promised to support the tax ordinance when it is brought before the board on July 14. The proposed real estate tax, which will generate approximately $61,399 in additional revenue for the village, is based upon an estimated real estate value of $8,186,594 in Pontoon Beach.

The amount of the tax levy is the maximum allowed without a referendum, one of the main reasons the village officials opted for the real estate tax. "This is the only tax we can pass without a referendum," Board President Paul Bennett stated. "If it went to the voters, it wouldn't pass in these times."

Bennett and board members Bob Vincent, Keith Bliggs, and Glen Wilson were present at the hearing to support the tax levy, and they all indicated that they feel the tax is "necessary" to continue providing adequate police protection to the village.

"It's not a luxury, it's a necessity," was Glen Wilson's assessment of the proposal and Vincent added, "I support this tax, as much as I hate to do it. It's the only way that we can support it (the police department) without breaking the village."

Clarence Hudgen, a resident of the village, argued against the tax, saying that it is unfair that only property owners would be taxed and that those persons whose incomes had not increased because of retirement would suffer.

"My income hasn't changed since I quit working in 1975," he related. "I keep paying more taxes and I just can't afford it."

The ordinance calling for the referendum must be in the county clerk's office by the second Tuesday in September and the money will be collected in the summer of 1984 for this 1983 tax.

During the regular village board meeting on Tuesday, Bennett termed amendments to an existing ordinance governing the placement of recreational camping vehicles on private property a "dead issue."

The ordinance, which requires owners of camping trailers and utility trailers to park them in their back yards, will remain unchanged. Bennett indicated that the majority of residents prefer the ordinance as it stands, and that efforts to change it would be wasted. "I'm sure that there would be more people against it (amending the ordinance) than would be for it," Bennett stated.

Bennett admitted that the law has existed for several years, but enforcement of many ordinances is nonexistent until someone complains about a violation. There are many laws in municipalities that are not enforced until someone makes a complaint," he said. "If someone complains, then the law is enforced."

Residents who do not comply will be issued a citation, Bennett added.

CATHOLICOS KAREKIN II, spiritual leader of 350,000 Armenians in the United States and Canada (dressed in black garb), leads a procession into St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church in Lincoln Place Wednesday afternoon. His Holiness participated in brief religious services here, followed by a luncheon at the church. He will conclude his visit to the St. Louis area today and will later travel to Vancouver, Canada, to participate in the Sixth General Assembly of the World Council of Churches.

Deadline is tonight on state tax hike debate

The Illinois legislature is fighting against the clock, attempting to come up with a compromise tax increase plan by midnight tonight. Meanwhile, the state has begun dismissing employees, closing offices and parks and taking other actions necessary because a tax increase was not passed earlier.

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that nearly 2,900 additional positions will be eliminated within state government by tomorrow, along with cuts in program areas, in preparation for a reduced fiscal 1984 budget.

The governor warned earlier this month that if no action was taken on a balanced budget until after June 24, that normal operations would be disrupted.

"We have been forced to take these actions to implement the no-tax increase budget. These are not the only actions we need to take if no tax increase is passed, however. Without a tax package, the legislature must act to implement those changes that cannot be put into effect administratively," the governor said.

"We have reached the point where we must begin implementing those cuts, some of which cannot be reversed. It is very important that we resolve the question of funding government within the next six days—either by raising revenues or by making cuts necessary to have a balanced budget.

"One of the problems we face in starting this budget-cutting process is that even if the legislature approves a package that raises revenue during these next few days, it will take some time for the ill effects of the cuts to be reversed in those cases where it can be reversed. It will take time for the state to return to its normal relationship with recipients, providers, workers and others who have been cut," Thompson said.

Employee transfers and equipment removal began Monday at all General

GC studies 72-cent property tax hike

By GEORGEANN MCCGEE
of the Press-Record

Second Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman's prediction that Granite City property taxpayers might not experience much of a tax increase turned into a call Tuesday night for an $80 tax hike per average residence next year.

The suggested rate would mean a 72-cent increase per $100 of assessed evaluation for local properties. Homes are assessed at one-third market value for taxing purposes.

For example, on a home worth $30,000, the assessment would be $10,000 and a tax increase of .72 would amount $72 per year.

The announcement is almost a repeat performance of last year's initial levy figure estimate that would have increased the taxes from the then $1.48 rate to $2.38 per $100. After quick cuts to the city's fire and pension contributions, depot pump renovation payments and a reduction in the estimated cost for the new refuse contract, the rate was reduced to the present $1.37.

EARTHQUAKE

...can it happen here?

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

It could start as a low rumble, like the feel of a passing train. As the rumble becomes more violent, the earth shakes and shifts, moving buildings, rocking homes off their foundations.

Almost as quickly as it begins, it is over.

Earthquake: The very word is enough to send shock waves through area residents. And, in all likelihood, this area will experience a severe earthquake sometime within the next 50 years, experts say.

The May 15 earthquake that measured 4.4 on the Richter scale was nothing in comparison to the disaster that seismologists and geophysicists predict will strike the area.

Each time the area is rocked by an earthquake, residents become concerned—particularly about insurance coverage. Local insurance agencies report significant increases in inquiries for earthquake coverage since the May tremor.

The Lueders Agency, which runs a periodic advertisement in the Press-Record for earthquake insurance, still is getting telephone calls.

Earthquake insurance has to be added to a homeowner's policy and the average cost is 40 cents per $1,000 of coverage on a frame home and 65 cents per $1,000 of coverage on a brick home.

The discrepancy in costs occurs because a brick home is more likely to sustain serious damage in an earthquake, whereas a frame structure will

HOME BURGLARIZED

Willie Teal reported to Venice police that burglars entered her home in the 1000 block of Logan Avenue last week and stole a TV, shotgun, three gold necklaces, a bracelet and 12 rolls of pennies. The burglars apparently opened a window sash to gain entrance. The home was ransacked.

Sr. citizen dance scheduled July 6

The annual "sparkle" dance for Granite City senior citizens, hosted by Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, will be held on Wednesday, July 6, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. Music for dancing will be provided by the Howard Bolton Band from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Refreshments will also be served during the evening, according to Hagnauer.

GC WOMAN INVOLVED IN 3-CAR ACCIDENT

A Granite City woman was involved in an accident last week in Collinsville near the entrance to the Jaycees Sports Complex on Collinsville Road. Evelyn Pines, 50, had stopped her car when a car driven by Kenneth Hartman, 33, of East St. Louis was pushed into the rear of her auto, Collinsville police said. Pamela Savala, 18, of Crestwood was injured in the three-car accident. She told police she had something in her eye when she drove her car toward the exit at Collinsville Road. She struck the rear of Hartman's car, which then hit the Fine car.

LAWRENCE CALCAGNO WORKS ON DISPLAY

"Lawrence Calcagno: A Retrospective Exhibition 1962-83" will be on view in the University Gallery of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, today through Aug. 15. The show is presented under the auspices of the Mitchell Museum in Mount Vernon. Calcagno is one of the surviving American members of the historic movement of "American Impressionism." According to Paul A. Chew, director of the Westmoreland County Museum of Art in Pennsylvania, his "recent paintings continue his inventive spontaneity of images evoked from his spiritual involvement with nature."

The show is sponsored by SIUE's Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums. Gallery hours run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The public is being invited.

CB owners asked to report drunk drivers

More effective use of CB radio to provide emergency help for disabled motorists and to deter drunk driving is the focus of a new public education campaign starting this week on the eve of the high traffic July 4 weekend. Called the CB radio "impaired driver alert," the program involves a network of national organizations and local citizens groups which volunteer to report drunk drivers for highway safety and are concerned about the tragic toll of drunk driving accidents. Some 25,000 people are killed each year in alcohol- and drug-related automobile crashes and more than a million injured. Society's total cost, an estimated $24 billion, was pointed out by the local REACT team, which will participate in the holiday watch here.

The new "Impaired Driver Alert" program can help deter drunk driving," according to Gerald H. Reese, executive director of Chicago area-based REACT International Inc. "But as important, the program can help improve emergency service to drivers who become disabled because of illness or other problems." Reese explains that motorists can use their CB radios to transmit an "Impaired Driver Alert" on emergency Channel 9 when they see a vehicle operating in a highly erratic or dangerous manner. "We are asking that drivers should be very careful to describe only the erratic manner in which the vehicle is being operated and not voice any judgment about the condition of the driver—that's the job of public safety officers," he says.

REACT International is composed of some 25,000 volunteers organized into 1,500 local emergency communications teams in all 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Canada and other countries. They monitor CB radio emergency Channel 9, cooperate with local authorities in providing help to disabled motorists and serve as communication links during times of disaster, such as flood, fire, earthquake and major storms. Since founding in 1962, REACT teams have handled more than 100 million emergency messages, including 20 million related to highway accidents. REACT received the president's volunteer action award for 1982.

National Transportation Safety Board Chairman Jim Burnet has urged the public to join in a nationwide campaign to report drunk drivers. The CB radio network could be an effective weapon in making the campaign a success.

GROUPS INVOLVED Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD), Remove Intoxicated Drivers (RID), Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) and Truckers Against Drunk Drivers (TADD) are among organizations cooperating in the CB radio Impaired Driver Alert Network.

"Most people who drive after drinking too much still believe the chance of getting caught is very slight because they will not be observed by a police officer. Generally, this is true," Reese explains. "But this perception will be changed as safe drivers learn proper use of their CB radios and increase reports of vehicles being operated in a dangerously erratic manner. Then, we would hope more people will be motivated to act responsibly and not drive after drinking too much."

Stand by once again for acknowledgement or questions, then repeat entire IDA. Monitors often need to hear it more than once. Do not attempt to become involved personally with the vehicle or driver reported. Remember Channel 9 is for emergencies and travelers' assistance only. Do not use Channel 9 for other CB radio communication.

Here are some tips for proper use of your CB radio for giving an "Impaired Driver Alert."

—The Impaired Driver Alert should be given on CB emergency Channel 9. —Say "Emergency." Any base station. Impaired Driver Alert. —Pause and wait briefly for police or REACT monitor to acknowledge. —You may get no reply. Remember, monitors can hear you when you can't hear them... and can act. So then, after pause, proceed to describe incident. —Give exact location (identify road and direction) of vehicle being driven erratically. Give description of vehicle such as model, color, license plate and other information. Do not say the driver is "drunk." Describe only the manner in which the vehicle is being operated. Identify your station so the monitor can call you back.

BAC OKs $13.1 million budget

The Belleville Area College Board of Trustees has approved a $13.1 million budget for 1983-84 fiscal year. The budget, which goes into effect July 1, has been pared to the minimum level possible because of the uncertainty about state funding, a spokesman said. The budget is based on receiving the same amount of state funding as last year. However, the college probably will not know until late August the amount it will receive from the state, said BAC President Bruce R. Wissore.

"If the governor does not get a tax increase, we will actually receive $485,000 less," Wissore said. "Taking another half million dollars out of this budget is not possible if we are to maintain all existing programs."

If there is not a state tax increase, the college will be forced to draw down its fund balance, which is projected at $7 million by the end of this fiscal year, Wissore said.

In anticipation of limited revenues during 1983-84, college faculty and administrators agreed to wage "wage freezes" this year.

Negotiated contracts with custodial, maintenance and secretarial workers will mean a six percent increase in the college's total payroll.

Salaries comprise the largest percentage of the budget. At $9.2 million, pay totals 70 percent. This is a drop from last year's 71 percent and represents a continued effort to reduce the portion of the college's budget that is earmarked for salaries, Wissore said.

It is the lowest percentage in 12 years, Wissore said. Salaries accounted for as much as 80 percent of the total budget in 1975-76.

The budget projects a 4.5 percent increase in income over the amount received in 1982-83. In addition to state money, the college receives revenue from local property taxes, tuition and fees, and other sources, including the federal government and grant programs.

A six percent increase in assessed valuation of property in the school district is projected in the budget. The college district's 1983-84 assessed valuation is estimated at $1.9 billion.

Tuition will increase from $19 a credit hour to $21 this fall. The budget was prepared through use of zero-based budgeting techniques, a process instituted by the college two years ago. Zero-based budgeting requires building of the budget from the ground up.

STEAL CASES OF EMPTY BOTTLES Fifteen cases of empty soda bottles worth $35 were stolen from the Farm Fresh store, 3715 Nameoki Road, it was reported last week.

A similar raid at Farm Fresh, 2928 Nameoki Road, netted the thieves eight cases of bottles worth $20, it was reported.

Carnival open

sion on this segment was not agreed upon. A parade starting at 10 a.m. Saturday in the 1200 block of Market St., will kick off the holiday programs.

Booths for food, drinks and games are available to rent with a deadline set for Friday, July 1, at 5 p.m. Those interested may register for a booth by calling 452-1388.

In other business, the park board members agreed to amend an ordinance allowing the sale of alcohol in the park for the three-day event only. They previously received permission from the city and the state to serve alcohol at the celebration.

During the holiday weekend, the Illinois State Police will participate in the National Combined Accident Reduction Effort. By utilizing high-visibility patrols on interstate highways and designated high accident areas on state highways, troopers will endeavor to encourage voluntary compliance to all traffic laws, including the high speed limit and not driving after drinking alcohol.

This is a nationally combined effort to reduce traffic accidents and fatalities during the holiday period, Superintendent R. J. Miller of State Police District 17 said.

"All available district troopers as well as command, supervisory and specialty personnel will be patrolling this holiday period," he explained. Strict enforcement efforts will be directed toward those driving under the influence of alcohol, exceeding the 55 m.p.h. speed limit, or other hazardous violations which contribute to traffic accidents. Troopers also are encouraging motorists to utilize seat belts and child restraint devices, he said. Required child restraint device use becomes state law July 1 and drivers with children who are not restrained face tickets and fines.

Safety for children who might use fireworks is of great concern to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Statistics from past years indicate that 50 of the 1,500 children exposed to suffer eye injuries this year will be from Illinois, Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the society, warned.

"Firework injuries are completely avoidable. No one should ever use fireworks for private use. We cannot stress enough how important it is for children and parents to view firework displays that are conducted in communities by trained professionals," Britton added.

The National Council on Fireworks Safety and the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, realizing that many will ignore state laws prohibiting most fireworks, encourages all people who will use fireworks to read directions, have an adult present, buy from reliable fireworks stands, ignite outdoors, have water handy, never experiment, light one at a time, never re-ignite malfunctioning fireworks, keep at a safe distance, keep fireworks from small children, store fireworks in a cool, dry place, and dispose of them properly.

America's birthday also will be celebrated on TV (Channel 9) with an evening of music. To open the program will be The Beach Boys 20th Anniversary Special at 7 p.m. Monday, July 4, followed by A Capitol Fourth-1983 at 8 p.m.

Assistance offices. General Assistance check vouchers normally processed and issued during the first few days of July normally take eight processing days. Substantive checks to some 139,000 Illinois citizens are expected to be significantly delayed.

Reduction of corrections work release beds begins this week with the elimination of beds completed immediately. Three hundred and seventy-six adult inmates and 68 juveniles are being transferred between June 27 and July 1.

Fortunately, General Assistance recipients in Madison County are not affected, since none of the townships in the county currently participate in the state matching fund program. Chicago, certain townships in St. Clair County and many other townships will find the matching state shares frozen tomorrow.

The only Public Aid program administered by the townships which has been affected by the state budget crunch is the Aid to Medically Indigent (AMI) program under which indigent persons not covered by any other aid plan can qualify for either temporary or permanent medical care.

Since March, the townships have not been able to issue medical cards, no matter how severe their injuries. About 400 AMI cases are handled by the Public Aid office in Granite City annually, according to Ted Funkhouser, director of Public Aid. Funkhouser says those needing medical cards from townships are "just out of luck, unless they can work something out with the hospital and doctor."

He felt sure that if a tax increase plan is passed by tonight's deadline, the AMI program will be refunded immediately.

Among the personnel actions taken: —Layoff notices to 96 personnel in seven divisions of the Department of Conservation were sent on May 31, 1983.

—Layoff notices to 369 staff in the General Assistance program were sent on May 10, 1983.

—Layoff notices have been mailed to 100 Department of Revenue employees, effective today.

—Layoff notices to approximately 680 mental health employees will be mailed off tomorrow, have been sent, and a total of approximately 850 positions will be eliminated during FY '84.

—Layoff notices have been mailed to 150 parole officers and 190 employees of work release facilities.

—Layoff letters to 43 state police were mailed on May 15, 1983.

In addition to direct actions taken to reduce the number of positions in state government, the state has or will be taking the following actions:

—Notice was given to counties beginning on April 12, 1983, of the elimination of County Child Welfare Services reimbursement.

—Nine state parks were closed on June 1, 1983.

—Rules to implement SB 1292 and SB 1051 eliminating the General Assistance, General Assistance

Medical, and Aid to the Medically Indigent programs were filed on March 23, 1983.

—Notices have been given to 139,000 General Assistance recipients that no state assistance will be available from July 1. Leases on all General Assistance offices have been cancelled effective tomorrow.

—Rules eliminating optional services to Medicaid clients—dental, optometric, podiatric, and chiropractic—were filed on March 23, 1983.

—All welfare recipients and medical providers have been notified that state funds will no longer pay for dental, optometric, podiatric or chiropractic services effective tomorrow.

—All General Assistance, Aid to the Medically Indigent and adult APDC-MANG recipients have been notified that they will be ineligible for state-funded medical services effective July 1.

—Rules implementing SB 1293 freezing long-term care rates were filed on March 23, 1983. Notices to all providers will be sent in July.

—Notices of funding reductions in community grant-funded mental health programs were sent in early May to approximately 800 community mental health, developmentally disabled and alcoholism care providers.

—All state police cadet classes were cancelled effective June 1, 1983.

—Letters to local governments with notification of reduced crime lab and computer assistance have been mailed.

Board picks insurance for GC students

The Granite City School Board Tuesday night approved a student accident insurance plan with Lawrence Smith & Associates. The optional insurance coverage also will be extended to cover all athletes, both on boys and girls teams.

The approved plan will cover up to $250 per day for hospital expenses and the board members determined that, of three bids, the Smith proposal was the most advantageous.

Of major concern, according to Karen Szedlar, coordinator of insurance services, was whether "to offer something easy for a lot of parents to afford with limited benefits, or offer more complete coverage for mainly those who don't have any coverage."

With the high unemployment rate in Granite City, the board considered that many parents would not be able to afford a more expensive policy. The cost for the Smith plan is $23 for coverage 24-hours a day.

In a cost-saving measure, the board decided to place limitations on staff travel expenses for conferences. While a formal resolution was not presented, members indicated a desire to curb travel in light of the district's financial problems.

One travel request was approved Tuesday when board members agreed the trip would ultimately pay for itself.

The board granted permission to allow Norman Owen, director of finance, to attend the Association of School Business Officials' meeting in Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 1 to 6.

Board Member L. Monroe Worthen argued that at the

NO DELIVERY OF

SURPLUS PRODUCTS

The Illinois Department of Public Aid notified Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, there would not be any delivery of surplus commodities during the month of July, but expects to resume the program in August.

This is due to a change in the method in which the commodities will be coming into Madison County and provisions being made to store the products until they can be delivered in the areas where they are distributed to the public, Sparks explained.

conference Owen could learn how other school boards are dealing with financial problems. The other members agreed to support the plan.

However, Member Dewey Melton suggested that, "given our financial situation, I think we should hold off on trips for a while. I guess my position is, given where we are financially, we might want to sit out a year going on some of these trips."

The board decided that each trip request should be considered on its individual merit.

Melton said that the benefits of each request will have to be considered, but he added that he would be willing to pay for his trips himself if he determined the travel would be worthwhile.

"We have to keep up to date with what is happening in the state and especially in other states," he said.

Melton was the only board member to vote against the Owen travel request.

Tax hike postponed to deadline

"We knew it would happen. We said in an editorial that it would happen. We also said it could have been avoided, but knew it wouldn't be."

"It" is the current turmoil in Springfield where legislators have only until midnight tonight to work out a compromise on a state income tax increase or watch numerous crucial state programs fold.

Actually, the legislators can vote to "stop the clock" at midnight and squeeze in a few more hours of debate before they all fall asleep.

It was as predictable as gravity. We warned that putting the tax issue off to the last minute might lead to a hectic last-minute resolution of the situation, or, worse yet, a lack of resolution. Tonight, sleepy, pressured politicians will decide how much we are going to pay to support our state for the next year. It will be done under deadline pressure, which seldom yields the best of results.

We will undoubtedly repeat the scene one year from now, whether the "hot" issue be taxes, equal rights or some other issue. There always is a hot potato which is put off to the last minute and then decided in a frenzy with the clock frozen at midnight.

It's a hell of a way to run a railroad.

Don't give school control away

On the subject of ill-conceived legislation that will cost us money, the legislation sponsored by State Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) to give all public school employees full collective bargaining rights just keeps advancing through the legislature, ignoring critics who say we cannot afford it.

House Bill 1530 has survived the House and Monday cleared the Senate. It is now up to the governor.

As we have said before, most teachers who want to already join unions and bargain collectively. McPike's bill not only gives all teachers that right, but puts in a "kicker" which could provide a swift kick.

If school boards and teachers are unable to reach agreement on contracts by 15 days before school starts, both sides are required to go to mediation to settle the issue.

If such mediation is binding, we would have someone we didn't elect, and who isn't paying the bills, deciding how much our teachers will be paid.

The law would take away the public's right to elect those who control our money and to vote out those who do not do the job to our satisfaction.

Acid rain issue needs more study

For those who have not been keeping up with the national news, there is a great deal of debate over how much more we in the Midwest should have to pay on our utility bills to stop the acid rain in the Northeast.

The theory is that power plants here are releasing emissions into the air which float to the Northeast and contribute to the acid rain problem there.

We are not entirely convinced that it is our fault and we do not want to be "fined before being found guilty."

It is proposed that utilities in the Midwest buy expensive pollution control devices and stop burning high-sulfur Illinois coal. Undoubtedly, it would be good for the aid, but may be more good medicine than we can afford. Many utility consumers are finding their burden too heavy to bear now.

We agree with the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences that more research is needed before costly legislative controls are enacted. NAS says its research raises serious questions about the effectiveness of penalizing Midwest electricity consumers and eliminating mining jobs to clean up the Northeast.

Wouldn't the federal government feel silly if it imposed all that agony on the Midwest and the acid rain just kept falling on the Northeast?

Avoid vanishing tax deductions

If you couldn't deduct interest payments and medical expenses from your federal income taxes, you'd probably go in the hole at tax time. Well, get a pick and a long rope — you may be in a deep hole during future tax seasons.

It hasn't been reported widely but politicians are definitely planning to dilute or remove your most important tax deductions — those for medical expenses, interest on mortgage and installment debt. And Congress is looking for ways to tax the retirement and medical insurance benefits now provided to you tax-free by your employer.

Congressional analysts say there is too much debt in society, and such moves will help keep it down. That is true. But figures show that consumer debt is not the problem. The problem is the monstrous federal deficit. Will Congress cut that? No, they'd rather you suffer.

Are computerized dog tags next?

With computers programming their way into every facet of life, it had to happen sometime. A nine-member Soldiers Data Tag Task Force is designing a plastic dog tag for the U.S. Army with a microchip that can carry a record of a soldier's medical and personnel history.

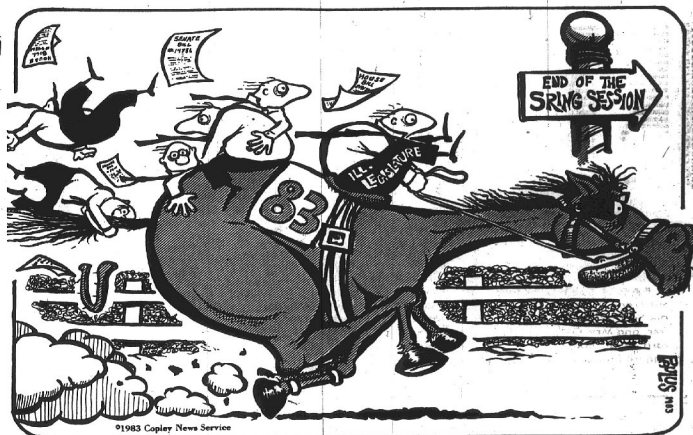

Like the metal dog tag that has identified GIs for decades, the electronic version, when it is issued later in the decade, can be worn from a chain around the neck. But it also could be carried elsewhere, and many soldiers may prefer not to carry the not-so-macho data tag so close to their heart.

This is viewed as one of the Army's major weapons in its battle to reduce the mounds of GI paperwork. So one hopes the new divisions of systems analysts and programmers pressed into active duty to develop computer systems for the plastic tag have more success than in some recent military innovations.

In the meantime, Hollywood scriptwriters and war novelists had better start revising those tear-jerking dog tag scenes.

Unkind words after unemployment is denied

To the Editor:

I wish to thank all those responsible for destroying any future my family might have had!

I may have been wrong, but to remove my only source of income, on the mere word of a employer, is not only cruel, but disheartening!

The employees of the unemployment office sit themselves pretty high in their role as a claims adjudicator determinator. But the truth be known, they're just a selfish one-sided and stand behind "I'm doing my job" as an excuse.

A family should never be made poor! They have done this, my 3-month-old son thanks them, also my wife and myself.

Here's to the people doing there job in our unemployment office!

School board leaves good impression

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Granite Cityans should be proud of their school board and confident that the board members are making decisions fairly, honestly and openly.

After recovering from the shell shock of covering Tuesday night's meeting, which lasted three hours, I have spent some time thinking about the decisions that occurred and the way the board handled each item on the agenda.

Having been jaded during the past year of covering various governmental meetings to believe that, for the most part, the members are not content of what they are voting for, I found the school board to be an impressive display of capability.

Frequently, I leave a meeting of elected officials disappointed and bitter. Generally, I believe that the reason things are so messed up actually is 'because' of those officials, not 'in spite' of them, whatever the particular government might be.

But with the school board, I had a different impression, albeit an initial impression, covering it for the first time while Bill Winter is on vacation. Bill has, through the difficult times the school board has faced, spoken of their integrity and the open way decisions have been made. But seeing it is the only way to believe it.

Decisions about rehiring particularly stick in my mind. The school board members considered each issue and aspect thoroughly before making a decision and they seemed incredibly fair in their determinations.

What's more, the members are quite concerned about how the public will react. They understand that if they misspend even a minute amount, the public reaction will be one of hostility.

It is, after all, the public's money they are spending, but I've yet to see a group of elected officials consider so carefully how to appropriate each penny.

As a group, they asked intelligent, thoughtful questions that proved their concern. Further, they spoke more than once about "moral obligations." Not many groups of elected officials talk about morals in an open meeting.

For once, I witnessed a group of politicians who obviously had read and studied the huge packet of information to be discussed prior to the meeting. Not minutes before they entered the conference room, but really in advance of the meeting. That is rare.

They also understand the state laws that govern education and many times during the meeting they considered statutes pertaining specifically to school boards.

The most enlightening aspect, however, was that everything apparently was above board. They freely discussed each topic and when it came time for the executive session, they graciously explained to the reporters present that they could certainly stay to protect the public's interest, but requested that information discussed during that part of the meeting be considered for background only, unless there were good reasons to make them public.

Most elected officials are pretty nervous about allowing the media to stay for an executive session. Most political factions seem not to completely understand the law concerning executive sessions. But the Granite City School Board knows the law precisely. The members explained it to me, which is a complete reversal of how it usually works.

The board members were hospitable and helpful. They did not carry into the meeting lofty impressions of their function.

As the new school year approaches, residents can rest assured that their school tax monies are being spent only after careful — and sometimes painful — scrutiny and evaluation.

It is reassuring to find that the school district really is being led by a board and administrative men and women of integrity and virtue who are concerned about the impact of their decisions.

Independence Day 1983

On the Fourth of July we celebrate the birth of our nation and those brave and patriotic Americans who signed the Declaration of Independence and pledged their lives and fortunes to the cause of freedom 207 years ago.

Today the document that ignited the flames of liberty remains a symbol of our founding principles for people around the globe.

As Abraham Lincoln wrote, "the Declaration of Independence... gave liberty not alone to the people of this country, but up to all the world, for all future time. It gave promise that in due time the weights would be lifted from the shoulders of all men, and that all should have an equal chance."

The inspired men who signed the Declaration dreamed bold dreams about what the new nation would become, believing that a people could accomplish whatever they imagined if left to pursue their dreams without interference from an oppressive government.

Our forefathers seized the opportunity freedom provided and built this great land of hope and prosperity. Today we honor their heroic spirit and the ideas that changed the world.

As we enjoy this traditional holiday, let us reflect on our blessings and all the good things about life in these United States. Tom Paine once wrote that "but a place upon earth might be so happy as America." For all our fellow Americans, Nancy and I wish happiness always.

EAGLE SCOUT. James M. Friedel of Boy Scout Troop 13 adds his name plate to Troop 13 Eagle Scout Plaque in the presence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Friedel. He received the award at an Eagle Court of Honor held at St. Elizabeth Church cafeteria.

James Friedel earns Eagle Scout award

James M. Friedel of Boy Scout Troop 13 was honored at an Eagle Court of Honor held at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church cafeteria, earlier this month. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Agnes) Friedel.

Bill Zimm, troop committee chairman, served as master of ceremonies and the presentation of the colors was by Stephen Friedel, brother of the honoree, and David Oberle. The Rev. Don Markovitch, assistant pastor, offered the invocation.

Guests attending included, Dave Trower, Gertrude Luebben, Mark Yehling, Ethel Mueller, Josephine Uram, Lorraine Miskell and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bussen of Meppen, Ill., the guest of honor's grandparents.

Leroy Stark, district advancement chairman, led the Eagle candle ceremony assisted by Steve Kusmierczak who is Eagle Scout of Troop 7 at St. Joseph Church, Paul Miskell, Eagle Scout of Troop 13 and Eagle Scout Steve Yenko.

Stark outlined the Eagle qualifications and the Eagle Challenge was given by Marvin Wiedemer, scoutmaster of Troop 13. The Eagle Charge was given by Ron Luebben, cub scout round table commissioner, Ray Gaudette, unit commissioner, read the Eagle poem to the honoree's mother and the Eagle Oath was administered by Glen Hommert of Troop 13, who is advancement chairman.

George Friedel presented the Eagle Scout certificate to his son and his mother pinned the Eagle badge on the youth's uniform. He in turn pinned the Eagle pin on his mother and presented his father with an Eagle tie tack.

Bill Zimm then read a letter of congratulation from the National Scouting office in Irving, Texas, and a congratulatory note from William Monical, scouting executive from the Uniwalk District.

He also announced the Elks Club Award will be presented later. A certificate was given to the new Eagle Scout by Gene Whaley, vice-president of St. Elizabeth Holy Name Society, sponsor of Troop 13. Whaley commended the guest of honor for his willingness to help in numerous church functions.

The young man then gave his mother a red, white and blue corsage followed by Marvin Wiedemer presenting, "My Trail To Eagle Award" to Jim and a plaque with his name inscribed. A small name plate was also added to the troop plaque at the church entrance.

During the evening program, Wiedemer related several humorous incidents that took place on the 10-mile in Highland, Ill., and at Philmont Ranch in New Mexico.

The scout is the 14th Eagle Scout to be awarded the honor since the Holy Name Society became their sponsor, it was announced.

In conclusion the Rev. George Friedel, while at Henry Schmidt, pastor of the church, gave the benediction. A patriotic reading about the flag was given by Refreshments were served after the formal program.

Child seat law is different

Legislation requiring the use of child car seats signed early this week by Gov. James R. Thompson differs from the original law reported in the Monday edition of the Press-Record.

The law clarifies the use of car seats for home ages and appears to have been changed because the governor realized problems in interpreting the law, officials said. The law still will take effect tomorrow, July 1.

House Bill 1, says that children up to 4 years of age must be in an approved car seat at all times when riding in a motor vehicle owned by a parent or guardian.

With it, of course, go responsibilities.

To fulfill the unlimited opportunities in our country, each of us must use time, talent and resources wisely. Waste can take the form of misusing or not using at all. We must do neither.

And even though the United States was built on the belief that we, as free individuals, make our own paths to success, we also must share the well-being of each other. We cannot ignore the plight of other Americans if we have in our hearts the real spirit of what it means to live in these United States.

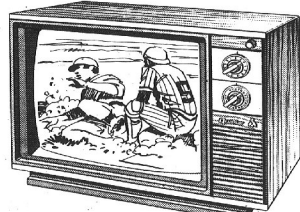

And so, we say, "Happy Birthday," to a wonderful country that provides the biggest challenges, the greatest opportunities and the most worthwhile rewards of any place on earth.

Allen will seek state's attorney post

Attorney Dick Allen announced this morning that he intends to seek the Democratic nomination to oppose Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber next year.

A return to responsible handling of the power of the State's Attorney's Office and the unity of the Madison County Democrats for the 1984 presidential election are the two underlying themes in the campaign, Allen said.

Allen served as an assistant state's attorney under Dick Mudge, Joseph Parrylak and Nicholas Byron. He is a former city attorney for Granite City and served as a staff attorney in the Madison County public defender's office from 1972 to 1980.

His announcement comes six months in advance of the official filing deadline for the office, which will begin in December. Allen says there is an urgency to build an efficient state's attorney's operation with emphasis on cooperation between the state's attorney's office and local law enforcement and "a de-emphasis upon the sensationalism that has been the hallmark of the current administration."

Allen says there is a necessity to build a strong organization early "to unify Madison County Democrats against the Reagan forces in the 1984 election."

"He says he will draw on his legal experience to restore the balance to the state's attorney's office that has been lost during Weber's tenure. Also, Allen says he will draw on his good working relationship he has developed with area police in his years as an attorney."

"Criminal prosecution is never the work of the state's attorney's office alone. Every legitimate conviction is based on the hard work of the police department. I have been fortunate to their trial experience but also their advice at his fingertips," he said. "I enjoy a good working relationship with many highly skilled officers and detectives in the area," he told the Press-Record.

Allen says he proposes the following: "The establishment of a warrant office in each metropolitan area 'to facilitate the issuance of warrants and conserve the time of police officers who, under the present system, have to wait in line in one central office and spend hours to determine if the warrant will be issued in their case.'"

"A more professional working relationship with the county's police forces. A liaison system, whereby the county 'is broken down into manageable population units with seasonal trial attorneys to assist and deal with each unit to assure maximum communications between the state's attorney's office and the police forces.'"

In view of the increased load on the sheriff's office due to Sheriff Emil Toft's "efficiency and recognition and handling of rural crime," a seasonal trial attorney will be assigned to work primarily with the Madison County Sheriff's Office, Allen says.

"The establishment of a non-lawyer but professional advisory committee, meeting on a regular basis, to provide input on sentencing recommendations, recidivism (repeat offenders) and defendant adjustments."

"The establishment of a consumer division treating under one umbrella with welfare fraud, consumer rip-offs and ecological violations."

"To bend every effort to solicit, obtain and put together the most skilled, seasoned criminal trial staff ever assembled in Madison County so that the state's attorney may not only have

DICK ALLEN

"To eliminate entirely the use of the political 'luge' which has been evidenced in the current administration, Allen noted."

"The Democratic party lost this county to Reagan in the last presidential election by 7,000 votes and a Republican state's attorney was Reagan's chief spokesman in Madison County in that election. We can't afford to let this happen again. The damage to our country has already been great," Allen stated.

We can see the results of Reaganomics all around us: 19 percent unemployment in Madison County; bankruptcies; small business failures; cutbacks on all human services and billions spent on nuclear and sophisticated weapons," Allen said. Allen also announced that former Appellate Court Judge George Moran Sr. has agreed to be his campaign manager.

District 9 employees given extension to finish moving out of closing schools

By NANCY WEIL of the Press-Record

Financial constraints continue to plague the Granite City School Board with members considering the financial aspect of virtually every item Tuesday night.

While the decisions made were not so weighty as at previous meetings, the board met for more than three hours, including an executive session that lasted 1 1/2 hours, to complete plans for the upcoming school year.

Of major concern was the moving of items out of the schools that will close into facilities that will remain open, particularly clearing the former Granite City North High School building of fixtures.

According to a lease with Belleville Area College, the Granite City School Board will have the authority to move items from North High School as needed.

"The objective is to move things we need to get the (other) schools open," Frank Kraus, assistant superintendent, told the board.

Employees were to begin taking inventory this week and the board gave approval to allow some personnel, who will eventually be put on layoff status, to work longer than originally planned.

The recommendation from Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds, to extend some working days "due to the excessive amount of moving that still remains at three schools (Lake, Namecki and Emerson) and the additional moving of items at the other buildings. It would be beneficial to us to continue to retain the custodians that are scheduled to be on layoff status as of June 30, 1983," Landman said.

The approved recommendation will allow 17 employees to continue work until July 8.

While the board quickly approved the plan, there was some concern about fixtures and items at North. Board Member Thomas Mofsky said he was concerned with the home economics labs because he heard that BAC officials plan, when North opens as the Granite City Center, to teach cooking classes. He said he heard that plans are to use labs presently at North which might eventually have to be moved.

Students need an understanding with BAC that the labs might be there only one semester, then they'll be gone. It's the same with the chemistry labs," Mofsky said.

Board Member Robert Maxwell expressed a far different concern after Mofsky was reassured that the contract with BAC allows the district access to fixtures and equipment.

Maxwell said it might not be a wise idea to completely remove all of the fixtures. "Let's not lose sight of the fact that we may want to use that building again," he said. The cost of replacing fixtures that have been removed would be "tremendous" should the district ever decide to use the school again, he said.

Park ID cards available July 7

The Granite City Park District has scheduled a special session for the issuance of identification cards from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, July 7, at the Wilson Park office.

The cards are valid for three years and cost $1 each. Only residents of the park district are eligible to receive an ID card and must present proof of residency at the time the ID is issued.

Proof of residence may be any current utility bill that the district can verify the address of, or a letter from a landlord, or parent or guardian of a child seeking a card, a spokesman advised.

The cards entitle the bearer to take part in park district sponsored programs, including swimming, at reduced rates.

Earthquake

give more with the movement of the earth.

Theresa Harding, an employee at Luaders, said that agents there have been offering the additional coverage to those who take out homeowners' policies.

Kaegel Real Estate and Insurance, Betty Kelsaw said she has written about 25 earthquake policies since the 1980-81 season. "The inquiries still are coming. 'People are more mindful of (earthquake coverage) now. It's more concentrated after we have had more than one earthquake in a year or from now, people will be less concerned,'" Mrs. Kelsaw said.

There are four fault or zone areas that could directly affect the Quad Cities should any one of them erupt in an earthquake. The most infamous is the New Madrid fault, the site of the most severe earthquake in the recorded history of North America. It is located in the Missouri Bootheel at the southeast tip of the neighboring state.

Between December, 1811, and February, 1812, three major earthquakes, measuring 8.0, 7.5, and 7.0, occurred on the New Madrid fault.

And, according to Otto W. Nuttli, professor of geophysics and a seismologist at St. Louis University, there is "a very good chance" there will be an earthquake measuring 6.0 or greater on the Richter scale along the New Madrid fault within the next 50 years.

The problem comes in determining when it will occur. Nuttli says that "the goal of all seismologists is to become capable of predicting earthquakes with accuracy."

Research presently is being conducted in the areas of the world known to have frequent earthquakes, but Nuttli says the ability to accurately foresee earthquakes does not yet exist. Accurate predictions could, however, be possible within the next decade.

Sometimes, fault lines or zones will become active prior to a severe earthquake, but often they do not. "It's hard to say just what will happen," Nuttli says.

In Charleston, S.C., in 1886, an earthquake was preceded by foreshocks, but Nuttli says the 1811 earthquake along the New Madrid fault apparently occurred without warning.

As the years pass, the probability of a large earthquake occurring on the New Madrid fault increases, he says.

Earthquakes can be classified in three general categories, with the least damage done by those measuring less than 5. Such an earthquake would cause "nothing more than very minor damage," Nuttli says.

Those that measure from 5.5 could cause minor to severe damage, depending on the depth of the earthquake. "Great earthquakes" are those measuring above 8 and are devastating.

The Richter scale measures the magnitude of earthquakes according to the movement of the needle on a standard seismograph. The seismograph is located at a standard distance from the epicenter of the earthquake.

Each increase of one unit on the scale is representative of an increase in the amplitude of the shock wave by a factor of 10. A shock wave that measures 5 is 10 times greater than a wave measuring 4, or 100 times greater than a wave measuring 3.

In terms of energy released, each unit represents a factor of about 30. For instance, a quake measuring 5 is 30 times more powerful than one measuring 4, and 30 times 30, or 900 times greater than a 3.

An earthquake as severe as the worst New Madrid quake during the 1811-12 series would have released energy equivalent to about 10 H-bombs, it is estimated.

A "very big earthquake" along the New Madrid fault would be felt all the way to the Atlantic Coast, Canada and Mexico, Nuttli says.

In the Quad-Cities area and metropolitan St. Louis, there would be damage to buildings — according to the type of structure and its age — and there would be injuries, although it is difficult to predict how many. There also would be some deaths occurring as masonry, glass and debris crumble and fall, striking people.

Research suggests that an earthquake the size of the previous New Madrid quake would destroy a 5,000-square-mile area around the Missouri Bootheel and sections of Illinois, Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Memphis is the largest city located near New Madrid, Mo., where the fault is centered. A large quake would devastate Memphis. Nine years ago, a federal study predicted a major quake would kill 3,000 people and cause $1.3 billion in damage if it occurred during business hours in Memphis.

Cities like Little Rock, Paducah, Louisville, Evansville, Indianapolis, Springfield and Cape Girardeau would probably feel the effects in terms of damage and injuries.

But the effects would continue after the earth stops rumbling. Roads and highways would crumble and be blocked, airports would be closed as runways buckle, train lines would be knocked off course, fires, floods and pollution would take over, water, gas and sewer lines would break. Transportation would be halted and the supply of food and other necessities will dwindle precariously.

While the effect on the area will be less devastating, it is difficult to predict exactly what will happen. In 1811, accounts of witnesses said that the Mississippi River changed its course.

But Nuttli says that "it's not exactly what happened. When the earthquakes occurred, the downriver side of land moved up and formed a huge wall, which is blocked the river and forced it backward. Over several days to a week, the water backed up until it eventually spilled over the wall. 'It really didn't change its course,'" he says.

A serious earthquake now would have some effect on the river, possibly causing it to go over its banks and flood low-lying areas like Granite City, experts say.

Minor tremors occur frequently on the New Madrid fault. Seismologists record earthquake activity on New Madrid about once every other day.

Nuttli says, however, that the San Andreas fault in Southern California is about 25 miles from the top to about 10 miles deep in spots, Nuttli says.

Tremors are felt more frequently in California because two plates move against each other under the earth, while activity in this area is caused differently.

For instance, the Illinois Basin Zone, which was the source of the May 15 tremor, is formed as a basin, or down warping of layers that occurs below the earth. The basin forms a bowl-like shape which fills with thick layers of sedimentary rock, such as sandstone and shale. As the layers push down, movement occurs, Nuttli says.

The Illinois Basin Zone is centered near Centralia and is "not really a fault, but it is a geological structure," Nuttli says.

The zone is irregularly shaped and covers much of Southern Illinois and goes as far north as the Missouri-Iowa border line in the vicinity of the Bloomington area.

Two other sites of earthquake activity, the Wabash Valley Zone and the St. Francois Uplift, also affect this area, Nuttli says.

The Wabash Valley Zone "pretty much covers the west-central part of the state (Illinois)," Nuttli says.

The uplift covers the southeast portion of Missouri, running north and west of the New Madrid fault. It covers the mountainous area of Southeast Missouri, all the way to St. Louis, and fringes below the river near East St. Louis.

While the New Madrid fault is, by far, the most dangerous in the Midwest, the Wabash Valley Zone is, in Nuttli's opinion, the second worst area of activity.

In the last 20 years, the Wabash Valley has been the source of four or five earthquakes and is a "fairly active," Nuttli says.

Although his research of seismic activity has included the major active regions of the United States, Nuttli remains calm about the possibility of a severe earthquake here, rather than warning of impending doom.

However, he says that an earthquake occurs on the New Madrid fault on the average of every 75 years, making it overdue. And, the Illinois Basin reacts on the average every 1,000 years, which probably was the site of serious activity prior to the settlement of this area.

But, this area, while it may be active, is not any worse than other regions, experts say.

That probably offers only a minor reassurance for Quad-Cityans not accustomed to large earthquakes but, in growing numbers, checking their home insurance and preparing, in various ways, to coping with a large earthquake, when and if it comes.

Tax hike

with a few of his own suggestions for ways to trim the finance committee's levy recommendation again this year.

Schuman, finance committee chairman, said his own earlier optimism for a relatively low tax rate wilted after adding up the effects of sewer breaks, needed street equipment and the impact of federal funding cuts on local municipalities. He said the city would be in worse financial shape, if it were not for its sales and utility taxes, both in their second year.

The levy also will have to absorb a projected general fund deficit next year of $227,716; an ambulance service subsidy of $354,000; a four percent payroll increase of $169,000; and a variety of inflationary costs, among other items.

In addition, the committee is asking for the $100,000 subtracted from the city's annual contributions to both the police and fire pension funds be returned in the upcoming levy. Earlier this year, the firefighters' union, its president and pension board of trustees filed a complaint in Madison County Circuit Court to try and force the city to increase its contributions.

Schuman gave the projected levy news in a special council session to consider the 1983-84 budget. The city council was held prior to the regular council session.

The combined general fund and ambulance service budget is projected at $9.5 million for the current fiscal year. The figure is up from $8.1 million set before an estimated $1 million was added for sewer repair costs. The higher figure also reflects certain "wish list" items, including a two additional summer city inspectors, a new ambulance, four police cars and new equipment for the sanitation and street departments.

Both the levy and budget projections would have been higher if Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield had not chipped away thousands of dollars in requests for more equipment.

Mayor Schuler explained that three possible ways currently exists to soften to try and force the city to increase its contributions.

Schuler said the projected levy would be a "wish list" of items, including a two additional summer city inspectors, a new ambulance, four police cars and new equipment for the sanitation and street departments. Schuler said the retirement of three fire department employees could make way for Valley Zone 1, in Nuttli's opinion, the second worst area of activity.

Aldermen will meet in a finalizing budget session at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Granite City Township Hall.

Sewer district promises to help man find bill

The Madison County Sanitary Sewer District last week promised to help a man who hasn't been receiving his bills and now owes the district a large amount in backpayments. Robert Rothe, who operates a laundromat on Maryville Road, didn't receive his sewer bills for several months. He contends the bills simply "disappeared." Although Morris, Miles, committee chairman, said he is uncertain how the district is responsible for the problem, he promised to assist Rothe in getting it straightened out.

Committee members blamed the situation on a lack of communication between the owner of the building that houses the laundromat and the tenants.

They said the bills apparently were being sent to Dr. Thomas Clay, who owns the building.

But Rothe says that Clay never received the bills either.

Rothe didn't talk about having to pay the bills, he said he only wants to receive his statements. "The utilities are mine to pay. That's not the argument, but I've got to get the bills before I can pay them," he said.

The committee decided to determine how much Rothe owes in delinquent payments, discuss the situation with everyone involved and then come to terms with the problem.

Rothe said he has been to the committee several times before and only wants to straighten out the problem.

Cite driver in crash that injures officer

Patrick F. McGowan Jr., 21, of 2666 Edwards St., was charged with disobeying a stop sign at Iowa and East 23rd Street following an accident there at 8:40 p.m. Monday in which a Granite City police officer was injured.

Police Sergeant David D. Ruebhausen, 26, sustained injuries and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was admitted overnight for observation and treatment and was released Tuesday.

Lois J. Buzan, 52, of Bethalto, the driver of a third vehicle involved, was not hurt.

According to reports, the auto driven by McGowan, heading north on Iowa, allegedly failed to halt at a stop sign and collided with the squad car operated by Sgt. Ruebhausen, who was traveling east on East 23rd Street.

The impact spun the police vehicle around until it faced a northwesterly direction.

Mrs. Buzan's auto, heading west on East 23rd Street and entering the intersection about the same time as the squad car, also was struck by McGowan's vehicle.

BURGLARS STEAL CLOCK, JEWELRY

In a burglary at the home of Martin Pereira, 52 Lockhaven Drive, reported early this week, the intruders stole a gold spindle clock in a glass dome, two gold pins, one with a diamond, a telephone, 12 cassette tapes, four Susan B. Anthony silver dollars and costume jewelry.

The burglary was discovered when a light was noticed burning in an upstairs room, which previously was dark. An inventory to determine what other items were missing was being compiled.

Capture 2 suspects in three burglaries

Two Quad-City men were being held Tuesday in Granite City for investigation of burglary following the discovery of three burglaries in the 1400 block of State Street.

Both suspects, one from Venice and the other from Madison, were captured shortly after police were called to the area at 2:40 a.m. Tuesday.

Assistance was provided Granite City officers by Illinois State troopers, Madison County deputies, Madison city police and a railroad detective.

Initially, police responded to a call of two men walking in an alley who seemed to be acting suspiciously. Upon their arrival, the officers saw the two run from the area.

One man, later learned to be from Madison, ran east toward Grand Avenue.

A search was made of the area and he was found lying on his stomach in a yard between two buildings in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue. A checkbook and a bank passbook belonging to a Granite City man allegedly were found in the man's pants pocket.

Police then checked a building housing Vern's Transmission, 1430 State St., where two open windows were found on the south side. Several tools and a pegboard were on the ground outside the window, reports said.

At the House of Values, 1420 State St., an window air conditioner had been removed and was also found laying on the ground. Nearby were two calculators. Other items also were missing from the business, Thomas J. Sleska, owner, said.

On the south side of a residence in the 1400 block of Grand Avenue, officers located an electric typewriter, a crowbar, an air conditioning unit and a pair of channel lock pliers.

In the back yard of another dwelling, two adding machines, a scale, a saw and a two-way radio with a charger were recovered. The property was identified as belonging to the House of Values.

Officers further located six lawn chairs and a cooler containing various car cleaners and waxes. The items were allegedly stolen from the garage of Bob Orasco, 1415 Grand Ave., where the door had been pried open.

About the same time, a Granite City officer and an Illinois Terminal Railroad detective located the second suspect running in the 1300 block alley between Madison and Grand avenues. He was taken into custody.

A 1973 auto was found parked near the scene and was towed by the Madison Police Department.

The case was still under investigation Tuesday.

ARREST EUREKA MAN FOR BATTERY

Jackie L. Vandergriff, 21, of Eureka, Mo., was arrested and charged with battery following a weekend incident in which he allegedly hurt Grace Stuffleben, 4501 Kirkpatrick Homes. He was released after posting a $32 cash bond.

Mrs. Stuffleben said an argument ensued with Vandergriff, a former boyfriend, with the man grabbing her arms and kicking her.

An officer said the woman had bruises and red marks on her left arm and right leg and said she was going to seek medical attention at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

AWARD 1-255 DECK WORK CONTRACT

The Illinois Department of Transportation has awarded road improvement contracts valued at $25.9 million for various projects throughout the state.

The total value is for 57 projects on which bids submitted during the May 27 bid letting. The projects include construction of the concrete decks on two bridges carrying Interstate 255 over Prairie DuPont Diversion Channel and Blue Waters Ditch, at the south edge of Cahokia. Hoeft Bros., Inc., of Belleville won the $4,517,474 contract.

Clutch hitting boosts Jr. Legion past Bethalto, 4-3

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — A baseball team that can come up with the clutch hits will, more often than not, emerge victorious.

Wednesday night, the Granite City Junior American Legion baseball got that clutch hitting as they went on to defeat Bethalto 4-3.

However, it was not the case for Bethalto. In each the third and fifth inning, Bethalto's nine had the bases loaded but couldn't come up with the hits necessary to get the runs home. That inability to get the clutch hits didn't set well with Junior Legion Post 214 Coach Darrel Wooden.

"We lost tonight because we couldn't even get a run in when the bases were loaded," Granite City did and that was the difference in the ball game."

Facing a 3-3 tie in the bottom of the sixth inning, Granite City's Brent Cook rapped a two-out bouncing single past Bethalto's shortstop, Phil Little to score Tom Mosby from second base. Mosby, who reached on single to left field, turned out to be the winning run.

Reflecting on the play which scored Mosby after the game, Granite City Coach Kevin Sykes gave a sigh of relief before commenting.

"I would've really been upset if we had let this one get away," Sykes began. "But we got the hits when we needed them tonight."

The win boosts Granite City's overall record to 12-2, while Bethalto falls to an even .500 at 7-7.

Sykes praised Cook for the clutch hit, but, too, he was quick to compliment Mosby whose hit set up the go-ahead run.

"Right now, if we had to vote for MVP it'd have to be Mosby. He's the one whose been keeping things going."

And what about relief pitcher Al Zentgraf, who at first appeared as though he wouldn't last more than a couple of innings?

"Al came on for us when we needed him most," Sykes said.

Zentgraf, who relieved starter Kelly Krausz in the top of the third after the ped another fielder's choice which scored Cook.

Mosby made it 3-0 when he singled to left field to score both Thurman and Adamitis. The inning ended as Bethalto starter jammed the tricep in his right arm, had difficulty with his control initially. But Sykes coached him around that.

"Coach Sykes and I talked technique, but basically he told me to relax and slow my rate of deliveries towards the plate," Zentgraf said. The right-hander did that and in the end he picked up his third win of the season.

The victory was enlightening for Sykes. The Granite City coach said he was impressed with his team's reserves—their ability to come in and successfully fill in for three vacationing starters.

But, too, Sykes said his team is needlessly making the games closer than they have to be. He cited athletes being picked off and batters swinging at first pitches, before an offensive strategy can be planned.

Despite the coach's assessed shortcomings, Sykes, like many coaches piloting division-leading teams, was happy to win and still be on top.

Granite City took an early lead in the first inning when Cook reached on a walk and advanced to second when Randy Thurman reached on an infield hit.

Pat Cathey reached on a walk to load the bases and then Tom Adamitis rapped Don Martin to ground out to the shortstop.

Until Mosby and Cook combined their talents to score in the sixth inning, Granite City's offense was heard from again.

Fifth place Bethalto, however, had every intention of making a big game out of it. In the third inning, Bethalto scored three runs on two hits.

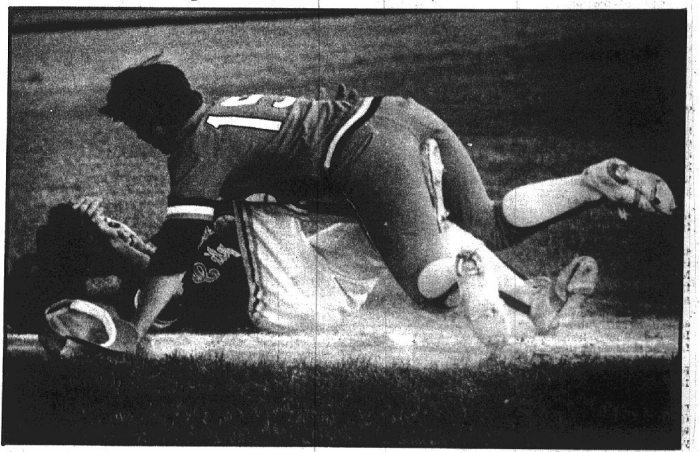

Lead-off batter Doug Wooden singled to left field off Krausz to start Bethalto's rally. Ron Harmon, facing Zentgraf, reached on a walk, and then Jeff Smith tripled to right center field to score both Wooden and Harmon.

A walk, which was issued to Gary Trimm with the bases loaded, scored Little to tie the game at 3 all. Bethalto's eighth batter Doug Garry grounded to Mosby at third base who threw home for the force out and then first for the double play to retire the side.

That's the way it stood until the last of the sixth when Granite City scored the go-ahead run.

Granite City managed five hits while Bethalto mustered just three. In short, it was a pitchers duel in which Krausz and Zentgraf faced Randy Eaton, a talented breaking ball pitcher.

Granite City will not play until after

YOU'RE OUT. Granite City's Randy Thurman, bottom, is tagged out by Bethalto's third baseman Scott Mitchell during the fifth inning of Wednesday night's game. Thurman was on third, base before he got trapped in the rundown. Granite City, however, went on to win 4-3.

In Jr. Legion Action Errors doom MAC Junior Legion

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — Errors are still hurting the Mitchell Athletic Club Junior American Legion team, but at least the MAC squad is fighting back.

MAC was one hit away from tying East St. Louis in Wednesday's District 22 junior league game at East St. Louis, but the home team edged MAC 5-4.

MAC's attempt to fight back Monday was much more successful. MAC, down 5-4 in the fourth inning against East Alton, came back to win that one 7-6 at East Alton.

Myron Merz, manager of the MAC squad, knows his team is getting better, but there are still many improvements to be made. "We've cut down on our errors a lot, but we're still making a few too many errors. Our throws are not too hot, but I think we'll be ready for the playoffs," he said.

"I think we're all right now. We are coming back from behind. We didn't come back earlier in the season, but now we're starting to. If we would have had another hit, we would have tied (East St. Louis' game)," Merz said.

Unearned runs proved to be the downfall of MAC against East St. Louis. The first of the unearned runs came in the second. East St. Louis' Duane Hawthorne and Ted Kimbrough singled. Cedric Baker grounded to MAC shortstop Eric Goff, but a bad throw to third baseman Randy Burgess allowed Hawthorne to score.

Most importantly, the winning run was unearned. Derrick Pendergass walked and stole second. A ball from pitcher Sam Tate momentarily got away from catcher Doug Druhe, and the coaches told Druhe to throw to third.

There was only one problem: Pendergass wasn't going. However, Druhe listened to his coaches and threw towards third, but the throw went over Burgess' head. Not only did Pendergass take third, he scored the winning run.

MAC tried a two-out rally in the seventh inning to catch East St. Louis. Jerry Booker and Druhe put together singles, and Burgess drove in Booker with another single.

Kurt Hylla then hit the ball hard to second baseman Darrell Woodhouse, who easily threw Hylla out at first to end the game.

MAC scored once in the second when Keith Coadley singled and scored on Burgess' single.

In the fifth inning, Tim Gray and Booker hit singles. Druhe brought Gray home with a sacrifice fly to left field, and Booker scored on a balk called against East St. Louis pitcher James Collins.

"Kurt hit the ball well that last time up. If he would have got a hit we could have tied the game, and we might have been able to win it," Merz said. "We could have won if we wouldn't have made the errors."

MAC only committed one error against East Alton. Better defense, along with 11 hits, enabled MAC to win its fourth game of the year.

The tying and winning runs for MAC came in the fifth inning. Hylla singled, and King got a two-out base hit to drive in Hylla for the tying run. Tate's RBI single drove in King for what proved to be the winning run.

MAC trailed 2-0 after the first inning and trailed after the fourth inning, but MAC came back after both deficits.

The other big inning for MAC was the third. Derek Merz walked, Gray singled and Booker reached on an error to load the bases. Druhe singled home one run, Burgess forced home another with a walk, and Hylla drove in the other run with a single.

Scott Speck, who took over in the middle of the fourth inning, picked up the victory for MAC. Although he only struck out one batter, he gave up only three hits and one walk during his stint.

MAC 4-7 for the season, plays at Bethalto today at 6 p.m. The game was originally scheduled to be played at Mitchell. MAC is not scheduled to play again until July 6 when they travel to Greenville.

EAST ST. LOUIS — Smith 1-3, RBI, Hawthorne 2-3, Kimbrough 1-2, Martin 1-3, RBI. WP-Collins IN-7 R-4 ER-4 H-8 BB-2 SO-7.

TOO FAR. Douglas Oliver of East St. Louis Junior American Legion team overran third base, and the result was that Mitchell Athletic Club junior legion shortstop Eric Goff tagged him out. Goff recovered the ball, which bounced off the nose of MAC third baseman Randy Burgess, and ran over to tag Oliver. East St. Louis won the game 5-4.

Inter-City League reworks schedule

Due to the withdrawal of the Corral Liquor Cowboys from the Inter-City Sunday Baseball League, at least one of the four remaining teams has requested the league board review the remaining schedule.

McDonald's manager, Ray Harris, said by simply permitting the team which would have received a bye each week fill in for Corral was unfair.

Harris contended that solution pitted his team against Edwardsville, last year's league champion, 10 times during the course of the season, while other teams such as Maryville faced the league champions only six times. Harris contends that that difference presented an unfair advantage to both the Maryville Red Sox and first-year team the Granite City Chiefs.

As a result, last Friday,

June 24, the league voted to rework the schedule so each team would face the other teams eight times.

"I brought it up to the board so the schedules would be a little more even," Harris said.

Maryville Coach, Randy Robbins, whose team stood to benefit most from the original schedule said he agreed with Harris' decision.

"I can see Ray's point. His team is right up there with Edwardsville. The other schedule could conceivably hurt his chances to win the league or even finish second."

As a result of the revised schedule, McDonald's will meet the Chiefs again next Sunday, July 10 at Wilson Park's diamond one. Maryville will face Edwardsville again on the same date at 1 p.m. There are no games scheduled this weekend due to the holiday.

Last Sunday, the same four teams were paired against each other. McDonald's took two from the Chiefs, while Edwardsville won a pair from Maryville. The rest of the schedule remains unchanged.

On July 17, the Chiefs will host the Edwardsville Nationals while McDonald's will travel to Maryville.

tournament include teams representing Dallas, Texas, and Portland, Ore.

Should Kehoe's team win its first round game, it would play the winner of the Dallas-Portland matchup for the national championship.

The team, which consists primarily of St. Louis athletes, includes a total of five women from Illinois.

Among them are Kehoe's wife, Jane, a teacher in Granite City.

At Tri-City Speedway Mid-season Championships Friday

Friday night will see Mid-season Championships in all four classes as the racing season makes the turn to the second half of '83.

The midget leader to this point is Belleville's Steve Knepper, the newest racing member of the famous racing Kneppers. Steve's uncle Arnie Knepper raced in the Indianapolis 500 several times and continues to race at Tri-City every week.

His racing record only two years is already showing. Steve has had talents, having won three in a row on the Tri-City's half-mile earlier this year. In his last two outings, however, he had to settle for a third and second as Kenny Schrader and Rick Vogler made an appearance at the track. The largest field of Midgets to date has been 27 weekly and 38 for the Nationals.

The Sportsman leader is Mark Kruse of Godfrey. Kruse is getting pressured as Cottage Hill's Steve Quertemorse has won the last two features. The largest field to date has been 15, however, 20 different Sportsman have raced here this year and are expected to be out in force for the Midseason Championship.

New Sportsman out for the first time this week will be C. Corbin of Alton and Rod Bailey of Granite City. Randy Blackwell makes the trip every Friday night from Columbia, Mo. to lead the Mini-Sprints by only 4 points over Foster's Skip Miller. This is a new 6-cylinder beginner class and while there are 24 members strong, never over 10 seem to be running at one time.

The Street Stock leader is Dave Novak of Kirkwood. Mo. followed closely by Ed Kuntz of Alton. Besides the double points for this race, the stockers are racing for double purse, so they should be out in full force Friday night. Several local drivers compete in this class including Steve Kraus, Mel Perkins and Pat McKinney.

The trophies will be supplied by Sieveking's Cam 20 St. Louis. Gates open at 6 p.m. with the first race at 8 p.m.

The next race is Thursday, July 7th with the Bush Late Models and the only appearance of Kevin Gundaker in the St. Louis area for 1983.

Annual craft show at July 4th celebration

By VALERIE EVENDEN
The "Summer Craft Show," a relatively new aspect of the celebration, has become increasingly popular since the event was started two years ago and will be offered again this year, it was announced this week.

Open to the public, the third annual craft festival will take place Sunday, July 3, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., at the Wilson Park ice rink facility.

Craftsmen from the metropolitan St. Louis area will display their hand made items together with live house plants and original oil paintings, it was explained.

A Granite City Park District spokesman said there will be many new items this year, such as pioneer crafts, purses, wind chimes, bird houses and picture quilting. Other artists will show glasswork, woodcrafts, needlework, soft-sculpture dolls, pillows, air balloons, bread dough roses, metal etchings, HANDCRAFTED wood items will be available at the park district's "Summer Craft Show" at Wilson Park ice rink pavilion from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday. Kathy Miller of P & K's Creative Wood Crafts of Granite City will offer music stands, doll cradles and high chairs and oak quilt stands at the festival. She shows some of the wood crafts here.

ceramics, applehead dolls, a variety of Christmas ornaments, wall hangings and other traditional craft items displayed in previous years.

Many unusual gifts may be purchased at the show, it was learned. The spokesman noted the craft show will be held during the Sunday afternoon matinee at the carnival when tickets for all rides will cost three for $1, between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

"This may be a good time for parents to browse around the craft show while the children are enjoying the rides at reduced rates," he said.

Chapter 3577 marks 1st year

Members of the newly organized American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), Chapter 3577, observed the first anniversary of the organization at a meeting held in the Anchorage Recreation Hall, last week.

How to save money on your grocery bills

Here are some important shopping tips

- 1—Check specials in food store advertisements.
- 2—Get to know the butcher and produce manager.
- 3—Find out when deliveries of perishables are made and shop on those days. Fresher foods last longer and consequently, you'll waste less.
- 4—Learn to estimate accurately the amounts of food needed. Keep a record of the amount of food you throw away in a week. It may alert you to ways you can reduce waste.
- 5—For economy and variety, use eggs, dry beans, and peanut butter in place of meat some of the time. These foods provide protein and most other nutrients that meat supplies.
- 6—Use nonfat dry milk, which is less expensive than fluid milk, at least part of the time in cooking and as a beverage.
- 7—Buy low, economy sizes of non-food items must save you at least 5% over other sizes of the same brand.
- 8—Try to shop as seldom as possible, preferably once a week.
- 9—Always shop with a well thought out shopping list. Try to base your list of foods on your menu for the week.
- 10—Take advantage of the special coupon offers going on at First Granite City Savings in conjunction with your local Schnuck's grocer.

Navy Mothers Club accepts donation

Nina Motsinger, commander of the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, announced the organization received a donation from the Granite City Steel Torch Club, at a meeting last week in the V.F.W. Hall.

The check was forwarded to the Navy Mothers of America to be recorded in the name of the local chapter and returned for welfare programs in this area, she explained.

A fund raising project discussed was a bakeless bake sale which will be conducted by Norma Darnell and Elizabeth Ramsey.

Members approved sending a donation to the Tim Patterson Fund at the American Heritage Bank, to assist in remodeling his home. Since he was involved in a motorcycle accident on April 11, Patterson, 29, has been confined in the hospital and is undergoing intensive physical therapy. The fund was established to make his home accessible for his wheelchair, including a room addition, bath lifts and ramps estimated to cost $10,000.

Plans were also made for members to send a card and handkerchief to Norma Darnell who has been ill.

During the social hour the mystery package was won by Edna Miller and the special award went to Alberta Edithing.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by hostesses Jean and Betty Taylor. They decorated the tables in a blue and white motif for the event. Games were played later and prizes won by Hazel Jones, Jean Teller and Della Rabb.

The next meeting on July 14 will be a business session at the VFW Hall, it was noted.

Chouteau seeks to collect its own taxes

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Controversy over who will collect taxes in Chouteau Township has not been completely resolved to the satisfaction of the Chouteau Township Board of Trustees, so they agreed Tuesday night, that Michael Johnson, newly-appointed tax collector for the township, should collect and disburse monies in the same manner as the previous collector, Cletus Bedwell, who retired.

The Supreme Court ruling in favor of township collections was cited by Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks and prompted the vote by the trustees to continue their present policy.

Johnson, who assumed the duties of the office May 1, addressed the board, asking for support and advice on proceeding with the tax collections.

Sparks suggested that Johnson ask Mick Henkhaus, county treasurer, if a letter instructing the residents of Chouteau Township to pay the first installment directly to Johnson could be inserted in the tax bills now being prepared for mailing.

Johnson was also instructed to list locations where he will set up a collection office, the hours and dates to be published for the benefit of residents in the township.

Interest earned on tax money collected for taxing bodies in the county and invested for a period in interest-bearing accounts, is normally kept by the counties. With this in mind, the trustees contended that the county's slowness in distributing initial tax receipts forces hard-pressed taxing bodies to borrow large sums to operate and to pay interest on those loans.

In an effort to eliminate the situation in the future, the trustees agreed to send Henkhaus a notice in writing seeking an agreement allowing Chouteau Township to collect and disburse the first installment for the present and future tax collections.

Sparks read a letter from the township attorney, Alan Walker, in which he stated that during a meeting with Henkhaus, the county treasurer said he was not notified of a new tax collector for Chouteau Township in time to have Johnson's name on the tax bills. Johnson contended that he informed Henkhaus the first week of May that he had been appointed to fill the vacancy created by Bedwell's resignation.

In another letter from the attorney, Walker clarified a question on appointing a temporary chairman to preside at a board meeting.

"The current chairman has the power to designate another person for a particular meeting and could be any member of the board or the town clerk," Walker explained.

Unpaid ambulances bills from the Granite City Fire Department's ambulance service, which are being collected by Chouteau Township, are being held in abeyance until Granite City shows the township an itemized list of charges, according to a letter from the attorney.

Lauching the celebration will be a colorful parade, starting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday and winding its way throughout the community, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams, Venice Park Board president.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols has accepted an invitation to lead the parade, which will include decorated vehicles, floats and bicycles, church groups, motorcycle clubs and other organizations and individual members.

"We are inviting the entire community to take part in the parade and holiday weekend carnival," Rev. Williams said.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council, Superintendent of Streets Tom Scaturro announced plans to spray the Lee Park carnival site today and Friday to eliminate annoying insects.

Permission also was granted by the aldermen to allow the carnival rides and booths to remain open until midnight on all three days.

Although the games and food booths will be operational beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, the rides will not start until 6 p.m. that day.

Both the rides and booths will be open from 1 p.m. until midnight on Sunday and Monday, Rev. Williams said.

circle the St. Louis area.

"I sent Governor James Thompson a letter protesting the project and great waste of money and suggested that repair work and a width extension of Highways 111 and 159 could be completed and merge into Highway 55-70 to St. Louis and 44 to accomplish the same goal, to relieve the traffic bottleneck at Poplar Street Bridge, at a lesser cost, Illinois highways are in a sad state and in need of extensive repairs," Sparks informed the board.

The present plan will cause more flooding in the surrounding farm lands and most of the farmers do not want to sell any land for the highway, Sparks contended.

In other business, Sparks read a letter from the secretary of state noting that car license plate fees will increase next year. For those who now pay $18, the fee will increase to $28 in 1984 and to $48 in 1985. Cars over 35 horsepower will increase from $30 to $48 in 1984.

A letter from the office of Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber in conjunction with the collection of taxes from mobile home owners was read by Sparks and immediately rejected by the board. The request that the township contribute tax dollars (a charge of one third of all delinquent money collected by the county) to help support setting up and maintaining an office for the project was being debated by all taxing bodies involved.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith made the proposal, but said it needs approval from all taxing bodies before the staff can be hired to enforce the mobile home taxes.

Four residents of the township were notified by Paul Hawkins, environmental control officer and zoning administrator for Madison County, to cut high weeds and grass and clear away debris and trash on their property within 10 days or they will be prosecuted, Sparks informed the board.

Sparks also discussed a complaint from homeowners on Meadowlawn concerning dogs running loose and causing problems by tearing trash bags and scattering the debris in the yards. Since Madison County has a leash law, the humane officer was sent a letter asking him to comply with the law and pick up all stray animals, as well as those running loose, Sparks said.

4-H Clubs is topic of Creative Women

Mrs. Joanna Spencer gave a lesson on "4-H Past, Present and Future" at a meeting of the Creative Women Homemakers Extension Association, held in the home of Judy Baker.

Four members present were members of 4-H clubs during their youth in Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Missouri. The four states 4-H programs were discussed and differences noted. Members were asked to donate their time to foster the 4-H program in the Granite City area.

The traveling silver cream and sugar set was presented to the unit for obtaining the largest number of new members during the county-wide membership drive, it was announced.

A report on the May Southwestern District tour of Jefferson Avenue in South Venice, the paraders will travel west to Klein and then to Lincoln Avenue, crossing Route 3 near the Venice Gas and Oil and proceeding to the west side of Lee Park by the railroad tracks.

Color consultation to begin

A color consultation service, designed to reveal natural beauty through the use of color, will begin with a demonstration this month at Mason's Department Store in Nantook Village Shopping Center. The date of the demonstration has yet to be announced.

The one-day color analysis workshop, "Seasons of Beauty," will be conducted by two local women: Judy Deterding, who may be reached for an appointment at 1-667-6252, and Carlene Bueger, who may be contacted at 877-7777.

Carlene Bueger, consultant for Helen's Beauty Shop, and Mrs. Deterding, an analyst for Mason's, will be conducting future seminars to help individuals match the colors of their clothes, cosmetics and accessories with their complexion, hair and eye tones.

A total color image that is personally designed for each client will be developed, according to one of the consultants.

Besides seminars, the color experts will go to a client's homes to give individual color analysis.

A consultation takes about one hour and includes advice on complimentary clothing colors and proper skin care products specifically coded to the individual and season.

The personal color consultation service has been offered in the past to business people and homemakers in the St. Louis area and will be introduced to the Metro-East area for the first time this month.

The two local women have completed training in the technique of color analysis, which uses an individual's complexion hue and eye color to analyze subtle color schemes.

According to the consultants, color coding is useful both to the young and to more mature men and women who want to dress for success and present a positive self-image.

The name, "Seasons of Beauty," is derived from the color coding method used for colorizing individuals by seasons of the year.

Fair annexation bill buried again

The fair annexation bill, sponsored by State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) which has been pending since 1980, was passed over to a committee and is believed to be dead for this year, according to a letter sent to Chouteau Township officials Monday night from George Miller of the Township Officials of Illinois organization.

However, Miller was optimistic about a court ruling recently against the city of Peoria and in favor of Medina Township, preventing the Peoria from annexing 495 acres to extend parks in Peoria.

"This should help the legislators who are working to pass legislation to aid the townships in their fight to protect township boundaries and prevent the cities from annexing land adjacent to the city boundaries," Miller said.

The fair annexation bills would end the practice of automatically annexing property into a township, such as Granite City Township, when it is annexed by the city. Since Granite City and Granite City Township share identical boundaries, by law any property annexed into the city is automatically annexed into Granite City Township.

Vadalabene's bills would allow property to be annexed into Granite City, but still remain in the original township.

Clean-up program irks some Nameoki residents

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Several Nameoki Township residents Monday night said they are upset by the way the highway department has handled its environmental cleanup program, particularly in picking up debris from the tornado and high winds that hit the area May 1.

Trustee Helen Hawkins initiated the complaints when she brought up the environmental cleanup ordinance and said, "there seems to be some misunderstanding" about what items the highway department will move.

Residents were told to put tornado debris, including roofing, wood and large items, out for the department to clear away. "They thought the highway department would move it," she said.

However, residents then were told that only metal objects would be moved and wood items, including branches and broken trees, would be left.

According to the environmental cleanup ordinance, "debris" is to be left for the highway department to move. Township officials said that they regularly send out fliers that specifically tell residents what items will be removed during the cleanup campaign.

They said that residents have been repeatedly told that only large items like discarded refrigerators, washers, driers, box springs and metal that is broken down, will be removed. But some residents said that the township has been negligent in providing specific instructions about what will be taken. The residents blamed the misunderstanding on a "communications problem."

Further, residents complained that debris and other items have been gathered and waiting for several weeks, but the highway department has not come to move it.

Trustee Lee Adams and Supervisor Harry Briggs defended the cleanup program. Adams said that when the program was started, residents were told it could take some time for the highway department to completely canvass the township to pick up items.

Briggs urged residents to be patient because the storm damage has put the highway department behind in picking up items. "The tornado damage threw us off. We're three weeks behind because of it," he said.

Louis "Cookie" Zeff Jr. told the residents that Milam East Division of SCA Services, where he works, gave considerable help to area residents in cleaning up the tornado damage. He said that SCA gave "a lot of freebies" in assisting residents.

The discussion did, at times, become heated and Briggs urged the group to be calm. In a lighter moment, Boushadow drew laughs from those present when he said that there shouldn't be any wood left to pick up in the Hemlock Avenue — Angela Drive area, a section of the township that residents particularly complained about. "I picked up every bit of wood out there," he said and added almost as an after thought, "then I built an outhouse and a 20-by-20 shed."

In other matters, Mrs. Hawkins expressed concern about the proposed final link of Interstate-255. She said that studies indicate problems that could occur through the American Bottoms where the highway is to be constructed.

The township was asked at its last meeting by Larry Firkus of Save American Bottoms Essential Resources (SABER), an opposition group, to consider passing a resolution opposing construction of the final link.

Briggs adjourned that meeting before Firkus could speak, so the board of trustees took no formal action on the issue.

Since then, Mrs. Hawkins has read studies concerning the American Bottoms and I-255 and she said she fears that problems will occur after the highway is completed. She said the studies indicate that the highway could sink into the marshy soil of the bottoms. "I certainly hope they know what they're doing," she said.

The Illinois Department of Transportation has, however, told those opposing I-255 that it will be built up on an embankment. But opposition groups claim that the poor quality of soil along the proposed route will make the highway heavy and buckle the same way I-270 has where it crosses the bottoms.

Adams said that because I-255 is already completed to the Fairmont Race Track, he believes opposition groups should have started long ago. IDOT will build the highway regardless of the opposition, he said and added his support for the final link. "I'm all for it going through," he said.

It is possible the trustees will consider an I-255 resolution at their next meeting in two weeks, it was indicated.

The board of trustees and residents also heard from Madison County Board Member Donald Rea of Pontoon Beach concerning the sale of Whitsell Park on the northeast edge of the Route 11 viaduct to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1245.

He said that some people have complained the $200 selling price is too cheap. Rea reassured the residents and trustees that the land will be maintained as a park for public use.

Adams agreed, "You couldn't have sold it to a better organization."

Audit reform bill passes Ill. House

A Senate Bill to protect consumers when dealing with certified public accountants, accountants and bookkeepers passed the House last week under the sponsorship of State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

"This bill requires that written audits be done by CPAs and CPAs only," Wolf said. "Certified public accountants are the only people with the proper certification to do these audits, just like doctors are the only people with the proper certification to do surgery."

The bill also requires CPAs to participate in a continuing education program and stay on top of the latest techniques in their profession. "People place a lot of trust in CPAs, so these professionals should know what they are talking about," he said.

Wolf also said that the bill is designed to define the jobs of CPAs, accountants and bookkeepers.

"People have a right to know who is doing what with their books, and exactly what their abilities and status are," Wolf said. "There has been far too much misrepresentation, mainly because the state has failed to spell things out," he added.

The bill also enables the Department of Registration and Education to expand penalties for misrepresentation and fines and suspensions to unregistered CPAs and accountants.

"It's essential that people know exactly who's handling their money," Wolf said.

BREAK SIX WINDOWS

Six jalousie windows and the inner screen on the front door were broken at the home of Ann Ruder, 2808 Palmer Ave., she reported during the weekend. It was theorized that someone may have been forced against the door during a disturbance occurring earlier between two persons in the neighborhood, as drops of blood were found on the residence's outside steps.

BREAK GARAGE DOOR, STEAL TRUCK TIRES

Clarence Whitford, 2810 W. 22nd St., reported hearing a loud crash during the weekend and getting a report from a neighbor that someone was breaking into his garage. Whitford found the garage door had been knocked down and four truck tires, valued at $416, were missing. A vehicle was seen leaving the area, he said.

Dr. Teters also announced that Dr. William Tarwater, who has served as the Acting Dean of the School of Fine Arts and Communications, will continue to assume that role until a new dean is appointed.

106th annual VP Parade precedes fair and fireworks

The 106th annual Veiled Prophet Parade will be conducted the evening before the opening of the 1983 V.P. Fair on Friday, July 1, at 6:30 p.m. starting at 14th and Chestnut streets in downtown St. Louis.

Theme of this year's parade is "St. Louis—Great Moments in Fantasy" depicting landmarks and special event relating to St. Louis as perceived through childhood fantasies.

The Veiled Prophet Parade has been conducted annually since 1878, except for several years in World War I and World War II. Generally, the parade was held in the fall, but since the establishment of the V.P. Fair, it has been rescheduled to provide another major event in the Independence Day Weekend festivities which begin Saturday, July 2, and extend until Monday evening, July 4.

The parade will follow a new route this year, beginning at 14th and Chestnut streets at 6:30 p.m., then proceed north on 14th Street to Olive Street, east on Olive to Tucker Boulevard, north on Tucker to Washington Avenue, east on Washington to Fourth Street, south on Fourth to Market, and west on Market to Tucker.

The parade will be followed by two and a half hours of food, entertainment and fireworks in the downtown area, sponsored by the Freedom Festival of the V.P. Fair.

Parade Grand Marshall, John Childress, said, "This year's parade will be one of the most colorful and interesting in the over 100-year history of the Veiled Prophet Parade. It features outstanding marching bands from throughout the nation."

Interspersed by 17 marching bands, the parade will feature clowns, equestrian groups, antique cars and vehicles, drill teams, the Clydesdales, Bigfoot and one of the floats will have self-contained fireworks with rockets and exploding firecrackers.

The 1982 Miss Universe and this year's 85 Miss Universe candidates will be riding on five of the floats. The parade will last one hour and 15 minutes and will contain approximately 150 units.

Among the 17 marching bands participating will be those from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Wentzville, Mo., Verona, Wis., Mount Vernon, Iowa, St. Louis, Collinsville High School, Memphis, Tenn., Florissant, Mo., Zumbrota, Minn., Hazelwood, Mo., Elkhart, Ind., Brazil, Ind., Pacific, Mo., Princeton, Ind., Breese, Ill., and the John Ford Highlander Pipes and Drums.

Visitors to the V.P. Fair will have the opportunity to board and tour one of the powerful towboats currently operating on the inland waterways system, the M-V J.S. McDermott, owned and operated by the Inland Waterways Division of Potl Industries (Federal Barge

J.S. McDERMOTT, one of the most powerful towboats currently operating on the inland waterway system, will be moored on the levee upstream of the Robert E. Lee Restaurant during the Veiled Prophet Fair. The public will be allowed to tour the boat from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day of the fair. A $1 donation for adults and 50-cents for children is requested from those touring.

Lines, Inc.) of St. Louis. The towboat will be moored on the levee immediately upstream of the L.E. Robert E. Lee Restaurant.

This St. Louis-built vessel measures 200 by 54 feet and boasts 10,500 horsepower from three main diesel engines.

Representatives of the St. Louis Propeller Club will guide visitors through the pilot house, galley, living quarters and engine room from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day of the fair.

Cost of the tour is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 and all proceeds will be divided between the V.P. Fair Committee and Patch Neighborhood Center.

Motorists who plan to be on the road for the holiday weekend should have little trouble finding fuel.

Cost-conscious motorists can still save money by shopping around for fuel. The survey of 54 stations on main highways in Missouri, Illinois, and Kansas showed that prices ranged from $1.08 to $1.28 for self-service regular. Regular gas at full-service pumps costs between $1.16 and $1.46, and unleaded prices varied from $1.19 to $1.33 at full-service pumps and $1.13 to $1.33 at self-service stations.

The survey showed that 67 percent of the stations contacted will be open Sunday, July 3, and 74 percent will be open some hours on the Fourth of July holiday.

VEILED PROPHET PARADE ROUTE to begin at 14th and Chestnut streets in St. Louis at 6:30 p.m. Friday. The parade will feature the 1982 Miss Universe and the 85 contenders for the 1983 title. Also included will be 22 floats, marching bands, clowns, equestrian groups, antique vehicles, drill teams, the Clydesdales and Bigfoot. This is a new route for the parade, which precedes the VP Fair in the area of the Arch, Laclede's Landing, Kiener Plaza and Busch Memorial Stadium. The Fair concludes with the traditional fireworks on the riverfront July 4 about 10 p.m., after the Linda Ronstadt concert, which begins at 8:30.

"Where Education, Technology and Training come together."

Illinois coal bill advances to governor

Legislation destined to provide a means for increased

Illinois coal utilization and to improve the economy of Southern Illinois received the overwhelming support of the Illinois General Assembly last week, according to Senate Sponsor

Senator Sam Vadalabene

(Edwardsville).

Senate Bill 1127, which now goes to the governor for approval, is known as the

"Illinois Coal Technology Assistance Act." It makes available funding for grants to advanced coal development projects and coal development utilization

research from the Public Utility Revenue Tax.

Vadalabene indicated that the legislation would provide for state support for the operation of innovative coal utilization projects such as the Allis-Chalmers Kilgus

coal gasification project

near completion in East

Alton. At present, the state is limited to assisting in the construction of such facilities through the use of state general obligation

bonds.

According to Sen.

Vadalabene, "In order to burn Illinois coal in an environmentally safe manner,

we must provide funds for effective research and demonstration. This measure, with no increased

tax burden to Illinois citizens, will give us a means to continue this much needed research.

"Not only will we be able to prove that we can burn Illinois coal," Vadalabene

continued, "but, in doing so, we also will have a key to the revitalization of the economy in Southern Illinois. Increased coal productions means increased employment, not only in our mines but in other associated industries. It also stimulates the rest of the economy, from storekeepers

on down."

The legislation also was sponsored in the House by

Representatives Jim Rea

(D-Christopher) and Ralph

Dunn (R-Du Quoin).

120 voice choir to perform here Sunday

Sunday evening, July 3, The Rejoice Singers will be performing at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, in a special service to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Rejoice is a spiritual group first and singing group second. It is a youth ministry sponsored by Parker Road Baptist Church of Florissant, Mo. The 120 singers represent nine denominations and 42 churches from Missouri and Illinois. Each year the group performs 20 times in the two states and on tour.

Members are selected from a waiting list and are required to attend every practice, attend church regularly and abstain from using drugs and alcohol. Practices start in early January and performances begin in Easter and continue weekly through August.

Twenty-three committed adults serve as sponsors. The group is directed by Ron Kelly.

Pastor C. Dale Edwards invites friends of Granite City to attend an evening of music with the congregation.

Proceeds earned from the project will be used for a trip to Springfield, Ill., this week. Runner up winners in ticket sales were Lena Keeling, Barbara Johnson, Dawn Brumitt, Jeff Beasley and Jason Roseman.

Robbie Davidson was named top winner in a fishing contest and received a $50 savings bond and a trophy for catching a three-quarter pound rock bass.

Convention in St. Louis set

The four-day "Kingdom Unity" District Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses opens Thursday, July 7, at the Checkerlone in St. Louis.

Convention spokesman, Walter Schafer of Granite City said that 14,500 delegates are expected from eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois.

The convention is one of 104 scheduled in the United States during June and July with an anticipated total attendance of over 1,000,000 persons.

Schafer said the convention program will stress the need for unity in a world torn apart by division, hatred and violence.

"The program will highlight the basis for unity," he added. "It is imperative that people understand the underlying causes for world distress and realize that a solution is possible."

Schafer extends an invitation to all interested people to hear the key talk of the four-day convention "Who Are United in This Strife-Torn World?" scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, July 10. As with all meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses, no collections are taken and all seats are free, he noted.

2 Corinthians 5:17 "... Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a creature."

Accepting Christ as our Saviour is one of the greatest things that will ever occur in our lives. We become new creatures in Him. What really happens is that our spirits are born again. Our emotions will change. Our thinking will change. Our desires and motivation will change. It is a statement of fact.

Although circumstances around us may not change, we do! We pray with confidence. We believe God will answer our prayers. He should, and He does because we are born again. We are His sons and daughters. We are new creatures in Christ.

CAR HITS LIGHT, PASSENGER HURT
Two persons were injured in a weekend accident at the intersection of Niedringhaus Avenue and 19th Street when an auto operated by Donna M. James, 23, of 1021 Grand Ave., Madison, reportedly struck a corner light stand.

Also hurt was a passenger, Doug Peterson, 23, of 1124 Twenty-Second St.

Miss James alleged the mishap occurred when a passenger in the vehicle reached across and shifted the car into reverse, then pressed the accelerator, causing the car to back across the intersection and hit the light.

James was charged with driving with a suspended license after a disturbance was quelled in the lobby at Granite City police headquarters. According to reports, Miss Whitener continued to create problems with another woman after being warned by an officer.

Jobs Program opens 925 conservation positions

In excess of $1.3 million will be used this summer to put more than 900 Illinois youths to work in state parks in an Illinois Conservation Corps program announced by Governor James R. Thompson Tuesday.

"This federally funded program will put 925 youths to work at a time when jobs for young people are scarce. Plus, the Illinois Conservation Corps will give persons 16 and older the opportunity to earn money for school, keep our parks clean and promote a good program," said the Governor.

Thompson said the Illinois Conservation Corps will be run by the state Departments of Commerce and Community Affairs and Conservation, the two state agencies that will receive $650,000 apiece from Washington for the program.

The money, he said, comes from the federal Emergency Jobs Bill approved by Congress and the Reagan Administration earlier this year.

DCCA will use its funds to hire about 550 park workers for the summer, employees who will be hired through local CETA sponsors. The workers will be paid $3.35-an-hour under the program and will work 32 hours each week. Hiring for the summer jobs will begin immediately, the governor said.

The Conservation Department portion of the program will employ about 320 youths and 55 project leaders for work at 33 state parks this summer. Work will begin July 1 and will end in late August for students and on Sept. 30 for all other workers. Pay for the jobs is $3.35-an-hour for workers and $800 a month for project leaders.

Workers in the program will build park trails, plant trees and shrubs, clear brush and perform other park improvements under the Conservation Corps plan, Thompson said.

"During the last two years, no state money has been available for this program because the state has been in a tight financial situation," he said. "But when the Congress approved the Emergency Jobs Bill, I asked state government officials to coordinate this summer jobs program for Illinois youths."

"We've offered the Conservation Corps in past years and I'm glad we're able to make it available again."

Persons wanting more information on the program may contact Chuck Tamm, Inga at the Department of Conservation, 1-217-782-6302, or Tom Lue at the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, 1-217-782-5080.

Appoint Venice officials

By VALERIE EVENDEN

of the Press-Record

Non-elected officials for the city of Venice were appointed by Mayor Tyrone E. Echols at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council. All reappointments received unanimous approval from aldermen.

The council also heard a progress report on the proposed cable television system and plans to re-submit the community's application for Enterprise Zone status.

Consent also was given mayoral appointments to new aldermanic committees.

City officials reappointed are:

Police Chief Francis Smith, Superintendent of Streets Tom Scaturro; Fire Chief William Meehan; Comptroller Roseann Koster; City Attorney Lawrence Hartman; McKinley Bridge Manager Tom Fields; Civil Defense Director Ben Honorable.

Police Commissioners Ernest Davenport, Tom Bennett and Eddie Jones; Humane Officer Joe Meehan; Building Inspectors Roland Wilson and Joe Brooks; Health Inspectors John Essington and Charlie Mize; Alma Stanley, McKinley Bridge office manager.

Willie Dumas, assistant fire chief; Clarence Bradley, assistant superintendent of streets; Thomas Britt, fire truck driver; Alford Crawford and Ben Honorable, maintenance supervisors; William Tyrone Echols, radio engineer; and Larry Seldon and Zenetha Woods, custodians.

Although some aldermanic committees have yet to be filled, Mayor Echols announced reassignments to standing committees.

Committee assignments went to:

Street and Alley—Third Ward Alderman John Ervin, First Ward Alderman John Fleig, Third Ward Alderman George Lewis; Police—Second Ward Alderman George Mangiaracino and Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Haynes.

Sanitation—Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr., and Second Ward Alderman Hans Svezia and Haynes; Fire—Ervin, Valentine and Fleig; Building—Haynes and Svezia; Finance—Lewis, Svezia and Haynes.

Mayor Echols suggested the aldermen and others interested attend a July 5 public hearing to be conducted by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, concerning the awarding of Enterprise Zone status to East St. Louis.

The hearing, in the City Council chambers at the Regis Building, 320 N. 10th St., East St. Louis, is scheduled from 1:30 until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. Its primary purpose is to identify state rules and regulations relating to businesses and to review those which could affect the conduct of business, industry and commerce, impose excessive costs on the creation or conduct of business within zones or inhibit the development and expansion of such enterprises, according to the DCCA.

Similar hearings to solicit comments on regulations and their impact on businesses are scheduled July 7 in Peoria and July 12 in Chicago.

Venice was unsuccessful in applying for Enterprise Zone designation this year, the first year for the economic recovery program.

However, Mayor Echols stated Tuesday night Venice will re-submit its application for consideration in the next fiscal year. Under the law, the DCCA can name only eight Enterprise Zones each year for six years, with the terms of the benefits to run up to 20 years.

"What we need to find out is whether we have to go through a public hearing process again in order to re-submit the application," the mayor said. "I do intend to re-submit it again and we could learn something from these (DCCA) hearings," he added.

Enterprise areas sought by Venice include the Regis Building, 320 N. 10th St., East St. Louis, which provides incentives and advantages to foster economic development in depressed areas of Illinois.

CHARGE WOMAN
Linda F. Whitener, 23, of 1300 Klein St., Venice, was charged with disorderly conduct at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday after a disturbance was quelled in the lobby at Granite City police headquarters. Liquor at Mexican Club is protested

The Mexican (MHC) Lounge, 1801 Spruce St., was denied a permit Tuesday night to display an already-installed beer sign on its lawn. The club also is the subject of a 60-signature petition protesting its sale of liquor to the general public.

Club Manager Rich Serrano said Wednesday he was unaware of the petition given to the Granite City Council and was reluctant to discuss the matter before the MHC board meets to discuss the situation.

Some neighbors in the area of the lounge were present at the council meeting to watch spokesman James Tadlock, 1751 Spruce St., protest alleged "peace disturbances" coming from the lounge area. Tadlock asked the council to restrict alcohol sale at the lounge to MHC members, save the club cease advertising to attract non-members and to have the sign removed, "as if designates sale of beer to the public."

Serrano said the lounge holds the same type of liquor license as other alcohol-selling establishments open to the public. The city's liquor license does not have a special category for club alcohol licenses and the club pays the same $600 annual as other retail liquor places.

The manager distinguished his lounge from a tavern, since the club is open only from 7 p.m. to midnight, seven days a week.

Fifth Ward Alderman Jake Varadian has asked the city attorney to determine if the MHC, as a non-profit organization, can open its bar to the general public.

In March, 1982, the MHC listed its business as a "private club" on its application for a city alcohol license issued by Commissioner.

Varadian said he liquidated Serrano prior to the residents' protest action and asked him to personally meet with the neighbors and discuss their grievances.

After the residents expressed their feelings at the council meeting, the alderman asked City Inspector Emerald Dawes to have the

Taxes to improve education supported by Vadalabene

BY SENATOR
SAL VADALABENE

The Illinois General Assembly, like the weather in Central Illinois, is as hot as a firecracker right about now.

And, at this writing, there are several issues — the crucial issues — which still are pending before the Legislature. The nature of this business of government is that things change from minute to minute, hour to hour. But at this writing, much is up in the air.

Naturally, I am referring to the governor's tax proposals. We are reminded of the quote from Lord Thomas Mowbray who once said: "The only thing that hurts more than paying an income tax is not being able to pay an income tax."

And, of course, the late homespun philosopher Will Rogers was right on target when he said in a speech that he gave: "People want just taxes more than they want lower taxes. They want to know that every man and woman is paying his or her rightful share according to respective wealth."

But what about the folks who are paying those taxes? What about our old-fashioned, hard-working class about 180 days a year. In the United States, about 60,000 engineers are graduated annually. Japan, with half our population, graduates 75,000 engineers each year.

And our students are not being helped by our language training. If we are to compare our students' science and mathematics with those of other nations, the results are even more shocking. Nationally, nine percent of U.S. high school seniors have had one year of physics and 16 percent have studied chemistry. In the Soviet Union, high school graduate has had not only at last one foreign language each year since elementary school, but also five years of physics, four of chemistry and five of biology.

In the fast-paced world economy where scientific breakthroughs are commonplace, the technological race will be won by the nation best prepared in the sciences. And if we are to really make headway into the high technology industries of the future, we have got to commit ourselves to improving and revamping the educational community in this state. Instead of cutting back on scholarships and grants-in-aid, we should commit ourselves to giving every opportunity to the student who seeks to further his or her education.

Last year, for example, the spending cuts imposed by the Reagan Administration cost the state of Illinois nearly 31 million, according to the Illinois State Board of Education. The board projects a loss of another $70 million over the next two years.

When colleges and universities are facing cuts of up to 50 percent in federal aid, how can we expect them to compete with Japan and the Soviet Union?

These cuts mean the reduction in the number and quality of teachers, the elimination of vital programs and — sadly — the loss of enrollment, especially from among middle- and lower-income families.

Education today, more than ever before, must see clearly the dual objectives: education for living and education for making a living.

We must commit ourselves to fulfilling a goal of improved education for an improved economy. We must commit ourselves to improving ourselves to improving our educational capacities so that we may improve the quality of life here in the United States.

If not, if we do not go forth with the fire and the dedication to improving our education for the world of high technology, then we must resign ourselves to the fact that we will be a second division team in the league of world economies.

If we do not commit ourselves to improving our economy through education, then we will see more Datsuns, more Toyotas and more Hondas on American streets and fewer Fords, Chevies and Chryslers.

Do we really believe that Mexico can make a better baseball glove than Wilson or Rawlings? Perhaps. But not without a fight.

We are a people of fierce pride and determination. An I firmly believe that we can, that we will, and that we must regain our stature as the premier world economic power.

Today's journalists are intrigued with the idea of comparing Japanese society with our own. And, in fact, we cannot help but admire their spectacular economic recovery since the end of the second World War.

I am not in the least of the foundation of Japanese society — the educational system — is the basic reason for the knowledge that every man and woman is paying his or her rightful share according to respective wealth."

But what about the folks who are paying those taxes? What about our old-fashioned, hard-working class about 180 days a year. In the United States, about 60,000 engineers are graduated annually. Japan, with half our population, graduates 75,000 engineers each year.

And our students are not being helped by our language training. If we are to compare our students' science and mathematics with those of other nations, the results are even more shocking. Nationally, nine percent of U.S. high school seniors have had one year of physics and 16 percent have studied chemistry. In the Soviet Union, high school graduate has had not only at last one foreign language each year since elementary school, but also five years of physics, four of chemistry and five of biology.

In the fast-paced world economy where scientific breakthroughs are commonplace, the technological race will be won by the nation best prepared in the sciences. And if we are to really make headway into the high technology industries of the future, we have got to commit ourselves to improving and
